Thieves Loot United States Government Warehouse In Pittsburgh Last Midnight; Frightened Away Before Getting More

BUILDING AT 25TH STREET

Six Men Break Down a Door And Empty the Whisky Into Five-Gallon Cans, Which They Lower Into Two Trucks By Means of Block and Tackle

Pittsburgh, September 26—Whisky valued at $3,200 was stolen from the U. S. government warehouse last midnight by a gang of six robbers, according to information to police today. The men were frightened away and this prevented them from getting more of the stock in the warehouse, which according to present prices, is valued at $800,000.

After breaking down a door the six men emptied the whisky from the barrels into five gallon cans which they lowered by means of a block and tackle onto two trucks.

The warehouse is located on Twenty-fifth street, near the Allegheny Valley railroad.

BULLET ALMOST HITS DRIVER

Enroute to his home in this place yesterday morning by way of the Monongahela Country club, L. V. Flanders, driving a Ford coupe, had a narrow escape from fatal injury when a rifle bullet passed through the top of his car and out the left hand windaw.

The ball passed directly over the head of Flanders, missing him only by inches. The local man, in reporting the occurrence to the police of Monongahela, stated that he had passed a man perched in a tree with a rifle in his hands, but paid no particular attention to him When Mr. Flanders passed with his machine, the holder of the gun discharged it. Mr. Flanders returned to the point where the shooter had been in the tree, but he had disappeared He could give no description of the man to the authorities. Just why the man with the gun took the liberty to shoot at Flanders, is a matter for conjecture. The local resident deems that his escape from the bullet was miraculous.

AT 107 HE'S STILL WORKING ON DEVICE BEGUN BACK IN 1884

When he was 67 years old back in 1884, James M. Farrar of Birmingham, Ala., quit business to devote himself to development of a perpetual motion machine idea. Today, at 107, he is still working upon the device.

Many Men Enter Mine, Hopeful For Future

Yesterday morning between 500 and 600 men entered the Marianna mine, after orders had been received by J. P. McCune, general superintendent of the Ellsworth division of the Bethlehem Mines corporation to put into operation the mine immediately. The mine had been closed down since the last week in May of this year.

This mine, which is the largest mine owned by this corporation in this district was placed in a position for immediate operation some weeks ago; for this reason the men were able to enter the mine at a much earlier date than if the announcement had not previously been made for a resumption of business.

There remains but two idle mines Cokeburg mine of the above corporation, which employs between 400 and 500 men, and which, it is reported, will resume operations within the next two weeks, and the Wilson mine, located at Cokeburg Junction, owned by the Acme Coal & Coke company of Pittsburgh.

It is said that C. C. Sharpnack, superintendent of the Wilson mine, has made the announcement that his mine would resume operations shortly, probably the fore part of next week. This mine, under normal conditions, employs about 400 men.

A New Angle Develops In Butler Matter

Philadelphia, Sept. 26. — A new angle to the Butler controversy developed today following a telegram from the Law Enforcement League of Philadelphia to President Coolidge threatening publication of a document disclosing the corruption in Pennsylvania of the office holders unless the President intervenes to have Mayor Kendrick retain the services of Brigadier General Butler as public safety official.

[illegible] Philadelphia possesses signed documentary evidence disclosing political corruption all down the line in the state of Pennsylvania by federal office holders and that it is the worst state in this respect in the Union.

A thorough investigation of the complaint of the Law Enforcement League of Philadelphia that corruption exists among the federal office holders in Pennsylvania was promised today by Attorney General Stone.

The White House turned over to Stone the protest made to the President by officers of the society. Stone has asked William R. Nickolson, Jr., secretary of the league, to confer with him and supply details.

If the investigation substantiates the charges, Stone will take appropriate action, he said today.

Autoist Hurt As Car Goes Over A Bank

Jules Verulette, 30 years old, a glassworker, residing in North Charleroi, suffered two fractured ribs and brouises about the face and body when a Dodge touring car which he was driving crashed over a seven-foot embankment near Wolf Harbor Wednesday night.

The car backed off the highway, and before it could be brought to a [illegible] ing against a tree. The man was enroute to Donora, and not being familiar with the road, turned into the Wolf Harbor highway. Noting his error, after traveling some distance, he attempted to turn around in the narrow road while an impatient driver behind him continued to advance toward him. In an effort to permit the truck to pass, Verulette backed off the highway, and was unable to stop the machine until it went over the embankment.

He was taken to the Memorial hospital at Monongahela in the car of a medical practitioner. An X-ray examination was made of his chest to determine the extent of his hurts. He was afterwards removed to his home.

PEOPLE CAN HANDLE THEIR OWN BUSINESS

In Address At Philadelphia, President Coolidge Asserts Federal Control of Public Utilities Would Advance Taxes

REECHOED LIBERTY PLEA

[illegible] Portion of Speech Is a Historical Review, Which Eulogized the Constitution to the Highest Degree of Sanctity—President Given Ovation

Philadelphia, Sept. 26—Republican leaders of Pennsylvania today were well pleased with the acceptance of President Coolidge's speech here last night in which the chief executive denounced attempts to limit the powers of the supreme court and warned against government control of public utilities.

Mr. Coolidge re-echoed the liberty plea in eulogizing the 150th anniversary of the First Continental Congress and urged obedience to the nation's basic laws.

The president's reference to the supreme court and government ownership of utilities was an attack on Senator La Follette and the independent party, without mentioning names.

"If we wish to maintain what the Father here set up we shall do well to leave the people in the ownership of their property, in control of their government and under theprotection of their courts," he said.

The prepondering portion of Mr. Coolidge's address was a historical review, which eulogized the constitution to the highest degree of sanctity. Near the conclusion of the speech the president "fired" his campaign talk and pleaded for "moderation and candor" rather than "violence and deceit."

"We pay too little attention to the reserve power of the people to take care of themselves," he said. "We are too solicitous for government intervention on the theory first that the people themselves are helpless and, second, that the government has superior capacity for action. Oftentimes both of these conclusions are wrong."

Turning to proposals for government ownership he pointed out that it would mean a strain on the country's economic system and increase taxes.

It would mean a loss in public revenue estimated at $600,000,000 a year, and while industrial states might not increase the tax on the farmer more than three or four per cent, in many agricultural counties it would run as high as forty per cent.

Pleading with his audience to be wary of proposals to limit the power of the supreme court, he said:

"Our forefathers were alert to resist all encroachment upon their rights. If we wish to maintain our rights we can do no less Through the breaking down of the power of the court lies an easy way to the confiscation of the property and the destruction of liberty of the individual. With railways and electrical utilities under poltical control, the domination of a group would be so firmly intrenched in the whole direction of our government that the privilege of citizenship for the rest of the people would consist largely in the payment of tares."

President Coolidge received a tremendous ovation during the few hours he spent here. More than 400,000 persons jammed the sidewalks be-

Magnificent Electric Clock To Illumine The Front Of Local Banking House

The Charleroi Savings & Trust Company is having erected a magnificent electric illuminated clock in front of its banking house. The time-piece has four large dials facing as many different directions, which will not only add materially to the appearance of the busiest section of town, but will prove to be a great convenience to the general public.

The clock is 10 feet 5 inches high by 2 feet 9 inches square, of dark bronze with copper hood at top and bottom. All faces of the clock are alike, the dials being surmounted by the words "Charleroi Savings and Trust Company" in large letters. The dials are 24 inches in diameter. The big clock is operated from a master clock inside the building, every minute the hands being sent ahead one minute by electricity, governed by the master clock. The most distinctive feature of the big clock is a set of Westminster chimes. These ring every quarter of an hour, and may be heard as far as the clock can be seen. At the quarter hour there will be four strokes, at the half hour, eight strokes, three-quarters, twelve strokes, and on the hour, sixteen strokes, followed by the striking of the hour in a clear tone.

DRIVER IS HURT SLIGHTLY RUNNING OVER A DOG

William Pokey, Jr., of Belle Vernon driving a Ford automobile, ran into a dog at Dunlevy this morning, upsetting the machine and badly smashing a wheel. Pokey was slightly injured.

Pokey is employed by the Quality Bakery of Belle Vernon, and after the accident was able to pursue his duties.

POSTAL RATES TO BE HIGHER

Increased postal rates were forecast by Harry S. New, postmaster-general, in an address before the annual convention of the National Association of Postmasters at Indianapolis.

"If new obligations of major importance are created for the post-office department, ordinary prudence suggests an upward readjustment of certain rates to meet them," New said.

"The present administration of the department has not insisted that the service be made absolutely self-sustaining. The government of every other great nation seeks to make its postoffice a revenue producer. There is no other postal service conducted with the liberality of the postoffice department of the United States

"It is only fair that the rates charged should approximate the expense incurred for the service rendered."

Several hundred postmasters from all parts of the United States were in attendance at the convention.

SOCIETY IN A PROMENADE

La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, Washington County Voiture No. 676, promenaded in Washington last evening. They made their presence known by parading through Main street to the blare of horns and glaring red fire with their "prisionneires de guesse," new members to be initiated into the mysteries of the order, heading the procession.

The procession wended its way to the Armory in West Maider street, of that city, where the meeting was held. Following the initiation of a large class, which included Colonel John Aiken, commanding the 110th Infantry, and routine business, there was a pleasing entertainment and "feed."

The promenade was largely attended by members of the Washington County Voiture from Canonsburg, Monongahela, Donora and Charleroi.

TWO MEN ARE HURT WHEN AUTO "RUNS AWAY"

A runaway automobile in Sixth street, between Schoonmaker and Donner avenue, Monessen, yesterday afternoon, gave pedestrians a thrill as it came tearing down the steep hill and dashed across Donner avenue, up over the curbing and struck two men, pinning them beneath it.

Fortunately, neither automobile or person happened to be crossing the street at the time, or more serious accident might have occurred. Two women standing at the corner of Sixth and Donner, in front of the Monessen Plumbing & Electric company, chanced to note the driverless car in its mad flight and jumped to safety; however, H. E. "Rube" Stewart and George Hupple, who were standing in Sixth street were unable to get out of the path of the machine which knocked them senseless to the street into the iron pipes lying along the Monessen Plumbing & Electric company structure. Both men were helped by bystanders to a physician's office, and while badly bruised and lacerated, it is thought that their injuries are not serious.

RAILROAD CHANGES SCHEDULE SUNDAY

The Pennsylvania Railroad company changes its schedule Sunday, as follows, north and southbound trains here:

Week Days

Southbound—a. m., 6:04, 7:56; 9:36; p. m., 1:52, 3:41, 6:09; 12:55.

Northbound—a. m., 4:46, 7:02, 9:44, 10:22; p. m., 12:27, 4:17, 5:43, 7:05.

Sundays

Southbound—a. m., 8:01, 9:26 11:27; p. m., 2:08, 5:22, 8:01, 12:12.

Northbound—a. m., 6:49, 9:32, 11:42; p. m., 2:40, 5:40, 7:05, 8:35.

Principal changes in the northbound trains on week days are on the train that is now due here at 3:47 a. m.; but after Sunday it will come in at 4:46 a. m. The other important change is that on the 6:05 train that will be due hereafter at 7:02.

The changes on the southbound trains are those on the 7:45 a. m. train, that will be due here hereafter at 7:56, the 5:24 p. m. train that will be due at 6:09; while there is a big difference in the time of the "bummer." It is due at the present time at 11:55, but hereafter it will be due at 12:55.

Sunday southbound trains will run the same time, with the exception of the "bummer," which has been changed from 11:21 to 12:12. On the Sunday northbound trains there will be no change.

The last week-day southbound train which runs to Millsboro, Fredericktown, Rices Landing and other points, over which there was so much discussion on the part of the Chamber of Commerce, remains unchanged, being due at Charleroi at 3:41 p. m.

The 9:40 p. m. train will continue to run through to points south of Brownsville on the P. M. & S. branch, Saturday night. These points include Mather and Crucible.

ERECTING MASTS TO PROMOTE SERVICE

Workmen are busy today at the plant of the West Penn Power company erecting fifty foot masts on top of the building at its new sub-station, to be used in the operation of a radio broadcasting and receiving station.

It is the intention of the West Penn company to install similar stations at its plants in Connellsville, Springddale, and Windsor. These plants will not be used for broadcasting programs of any kind but will be for emergency use only.

Last winter, during the heavy wind and snow storms, the service of the West Penn company was interfered with considerably when its lines were broken down. Telephone service between its sub-stations and plants was interrupted, and it was necessary to call into service privately operated radio stations to establish communication. It is to guard against conditions of this kind that the stations are being installed.

Charleroi High Will Get A Real Test Tomorrow With California Normal Reserves At Ball Park

A light scrimmage was indulged in last evening between the first and second teams in preparation for the game here tomorrow with the California Normal Reserves.

Coach Allison has not given out any lineup for Saturday's game, but in all probability it will be made up of some of the former high school stars that have enrolled at the Normal this fall.

Coach Stepanian is undecided as to which back-field he will start on Saturday. The squad is in fair shape physically. Last evening Crytzer, Feehan and Chacko were on the sidelines during practice, Swenson was in uniform, but did not do any heavy work.

"Doc" Smith will referee the game tomorrow, and Ralph Malcolm will serve as head linesman. The umpire has not been selected yet.

The athletic authorities have asked for a large guarantee, and it is hoped that a large crowd will be on hand to see the game.

The sale of season tickets in high school has been better than in previous years, but the patron tickets are not selling. The schedule of home games is by far more attractive than that of last season, and the price for the six games was reduced to $2.50. Tickets will be available until Saturday afternoon. They will be sold at the gate.

General admission this week and from now until the end of the season will be 50 cents. The game will start at 3 o'clock.

DEMARCO TO MEET BRADY NEXT WEEK AT McKEESPORT

James Mason, who was at the McKeesport show, announced that Harry Greb, middleweight champion of the world, will clash with Tommy Loughran at the opening indoor show at the Arena in Philadelphia October 13. The match has been hanging fire for several days, but was finally closed yesterday.

It is also announced that Sailor DeMarco of Charleroi is to appear in the headliner at McKeesport next week. His opponent will likely be Jimmy Brady of Detroit. Brady was twice scheduled to appear in the Tube City, but had to call it off at the last minute on each occasion.

Promoter Al Pryel of Homestead is going to open the indoor season in that city next month, October 17 being the date. Hugh Manson, who meets Willie Davies in Charleroi next week, will be one of the main bout principals at Homestead, according to the latter's manager, F. P. Woumans.

CHANCES FORLORN FOR DODGERS; GIANTS AND WASHINGTON TO WIN

The pennant races are over, and the Senators and Giants champions, respectively, of the American and National leagues, unless there occurs in the next few days such an upset as that which sent the famous Athletics crashing down to defeat before the ramaging Braves in the 1914 world series.

By taking the third straight game from the Pirates at the Polo Grounds the Giants practically clinched the Heydler circuit's bunting. The defeat put the Pittsburghers definitely out of the race, for even though they win their five remaining contests—all with the Cubs—they would finish half a game in the rear of the McGrawmen should the latter lose all three of their remaining games to the Phillies.

Brooklyn has a forlorn hope—a distinctly outside chance. If the Dodgers, idle yesterday and again today, win their two remaining games from the Braves, in the series opening tomorrow, the Giants can sew up the flag by winning two of their three. If the Giants win only one, the best the Dodgers can do is tie by trouncing the Braves twice.

A Brooklyn defeat would put the Dodgers out of the race unless the Giants lost three straight.

With Washington and New York traveling yesterday, the former to Boston and the latter to Philadelphia, for their final series of the year, the American league situation, of course, remained unchanged. The Senators have to win three of their four games with the Red Sox to clinch in the pennant if the Yankees go undefeated by the Mackmen through their four-game series in Quakertown. If the Senators break even with the Phillies, the best the Yanks can do is tie by winning four straight.

JOHNNY KING LOSES BUT BY VIRTUE OF A REFEREE

Graduating from the bathrobe to the silk dressing gown class Vic Brog, erstwhile Pittsburgh boy, who has been completing his ring education in New York, must have secreted a talisman in one of the pockets of his new habiliment last night in McKeesport. For if ever a fellow got a lucky verdict it was Vic, who, although pummeled about the ring in the last three rounds like a vagrant cork on a rough sea by Johnny King, the rough, willing miner from Fayette City, Brog heard with pleasure and the crowd with dismay that the the judges had disagreed. Thereupon, Barney McGuire, especially imported from Johnstown, due to the dearth of Pittsburgh referees, gave the decision to Brog.

The way the scorecard showed the thing at the finish was that Brog had held King even in the second and took the fifth, sixth and seventh, but in all the others took a beautiful, even though it was not artistic, pasting from King, who in the opinion of everyone but one judge and the referee was far ahead at the finish. The only thing Brog did to hold up his end was to show a surprising amount of gameness in coming back under King's assault, as it has long been figured that Brog cannot go so fast uphill. Last night he stood his ground fairly well under King's mauling and walloping. And then he learned, even to his own surprise, if the truth were only known, that he had two friends in the house and these two were big enough in their official capacity to switch things in his favor.

Ben Franklin Enjoyed Good Things of Life

Benjamin Franklin was one of those rare men who lived so happily and so abundantly that the reader of his life finds himself wishing he might have been a contemporary.

He was regarded as one of the wisest members of the First congress, yet he seldom spoke and he spent a great part of his time fast asleep in his chair.

He drank too much, he ate too much; instead of exercising, he played chess. He suffered the piercing pains of gout. He confessed all his faults with delightful humor and frankness.

At sixteen he wrote an article for his brother's newspaper, describing the night life of Boston, and at seventy he was still indulging in pleasant romances with young and beautiful French women. He missed nothing.

As he added years to his age and dollars to his income, he violated many of Poor Richard's precepts.

His common sense led him to take hot baths twice a week, when the general custom was to bathe not oftener than two or three times a year. He believed in fresh air, and even night air, while the doctors were still using leeches as a cure-all.

He enjoyed life to the utmost. He was the master of his circumstances from the age of sixteen, when he ran away from home, to the ripe age of eighty-four, when he passed on, with all his affairs in order. He left an estate of a quarter million dollars for his heirs.—William Feather Magazine.

SCHOLASTICS TO PLAY "BILLY" LONG'S CHAMPIONS

The Charleroi Scholastics Football team, composed of former High school, Canoe club, and Hilltop players, will travel to Brownsville on Sunday to play "Billy" Long's Fayette County champions.

The game is to be played at 2:30 o'clock. The Scholastics have been practicing faithfully, under the eye of Coach Vandemeer, as this is a hard game for the opener.

The team is made up of such stars as Chalfant, Kirby, Schramko, Corni, Estaque, Bayens, Consonery, White, Arnold, Allen, Flats, Wilson, Glunt, Columbine, and possibly Hazelbaker, if the latter-named does not decide to enter Carnegie Tech before Sunday.

The Scholastics hope to give Brownsville a good argument. They are open for games with all first class lightweight teams every Sunday during the season, and which they intend to play abroad. The Scholastics would like to arrange a contest with the Brunswicks for the local championship to be played here either on Armistice day or Thanksgiving. The manager of the Scholastics is George Humphries, 851 Lincoln avenue, with whom games can be arranged.

The Fur Will Fly Here Tueseay Night When Two Rivals Meet in the Arena

The Boxing committee of the Charleroi Elks club has been fortunate in being able, in its closing bill of the open-air season, to sign such sterling exponents of the padded arena as Young Saylor of this place, who has never met with defeat, and who, in meeting Joe Moore, the California boy, will face the hardest test of his career. Moore defeated all opponents in the southland last year, under the management of Charley Jones.

The other main bout on the splendid card will feature two of the fastest flyweights in the boxing game in the persons of Willie Davies of Roscoe and Hugh Manson of Homestead. These boys have been seen here in a six-round mill, Davies winning the decision. Manson claims that he did not have time to condition himself for this mill; so the boxing committee of the Elks club matched them for 10 rounds. Both boys claim that they will win, and win decisively.

At this tourney, to be held at the Charleroi Baseball park on next Tuesday night, two other bouts, in keeping with the main attractions, will be put on. The committee has about closed them for the night, and their names will be announced in a subsequent issue of the Mail.

CALIFORNIA NORMAL TO PLAY WEST LIBERTY

This afternoon the California Normal Football team formally opens the season. It will have as its opponents the West Liberty gridiron warriors.

PITTSBURGH LOSES AGAIN TO THE NEW YORK TEAM

Whatever hopes the Pirates may have entertained for winning this year's pennant went up in smoke yesterday afternoon when they blew their farewell engagement in the East by posing 5 to 4 to the Giants, who at the same time gained half a game in their advantage over the Robins who had an idle day.

Three home runs and a threatened riot were among the numerous features of a battle in which the Buccaneers fought hard with their backs to the wall, but were held safe by Arthur Nehf until the ninth inning when they rallied, yet failed to tie the score. The four-baggers were delivered by Irish Meusel and Nehf for New York, while Captain Max Carey registered the big wallop for Pittsburgh.

Nehf was opposed by Wilbur Cooper and it was nip and tuck between the two crack southpaws until the seventh, when a short whirl of slugging by the New Yorkers decided the contest. The visitors at last succeeded in solving Nehf's delivery, but had to be content with one tally less than their antagonists.

TWO STARS BANNED AT HOMESTEAD

Homestead High school's chances for a W. P. I. A. L. title in football received a severe jolt last evening when the decisions committee of the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League, at a meeting at Schenley High school, ruled that Adam Slater and Robert Markowitz, two of the Steel City stars, were ineligible to compete in athletics for Homestead.

The ruling in the case of Wesley Pfieffer, who was also protested, was withheld until the committee can investigate his status further. The banning of Slater and Markowitz came about when C. W. McCready, principal of Munhall High school and the same man who protested the age of Roy M. Donovan and lost, declared that the athletes lived in Munhall and should attend the school of that place.

Homestead officials contend that the three boys are staying in Homestead and have the right to attend the Steel City High. Slater is living with his brother, and Markowitz and Pfeffer living with uncles. Pfieffer should be beyond protestation, for he has already played a full year in athletics while wearing the colors of Homestead.

The decisions committee which included Hugh Lambie, J. M. McLaughlin, J. F. Gehrett, Y. K. Irvine and John Bower reached the following decision

The decisions committee ruled that Adam Slater and Robert Markowitz may not play on the Homestead football team on account of their legal residence being in Munhall. That in the case of Wesley Pfeffer, decision is withheld until further investigation can be done to determine his legal residence.

Homestead High plays here on Saturday, October 4.

Don't Pay

For Beauty you fail to get

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I am not a cosmetic maker, not a beauty expert My work is on the stage and screen. But I have had advantages which most girls and women lack. I had a rich, ambitious mother who took me in a world-search for the utmost in beauty helps. Then when I became a famous beauty, every great scientist who made a discovery sent it to me at once.

Edna Wallace Hopper

Now I wish all girls and women to share that good fortune with me. I found helps which multiplied my beauty, and which have kept my youthful beauty to my grand old age. And experts tell me that every woman can in like ways secure like results.

So I am placing these helps which I spent a lifetime in finding, at every woman's call All druggists and toilet counters now supply them But with each comes a guarantee. I instruct every dealer to return the money to anyone disappointed, and charge the amount to me

My marvelous complexion is largely due to a super-cream. It combines the products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that modern science knows to foster, feed and protect the skin. I use it as a night cream, also daytimes as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. And my baby skin, at my age, shows much it means to women. No woman I have ever met has ever found a cream to compare

Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream is now supplied by all druggists and toilet counters at 60c per jar and 35c per tube. But I shall be glad to send a free sample, if you wish. Just mail the coupon for it, and my Beauty Book will come with it.

1,000,000 SUFFER FROM HAY FEVER

Development of Suburbs Helps Increase Disease.

New York.—The records of the American Hay Fever association indicate that the victims of hay fever in the United States are more than 1,000,000, and that the number is steadily increasing, both apparently and actually. This is set forth by William Scheppegrell, A. M., M. D, president of the American Hay Fever association, and chief surgeon of the hay fever and asthma clinic, Charity hospital, New Orleans, in a paper on the subject for the United States public health service.

The apparent increase is attributed to the fact that many cases of hay fever, especially those occurring outside of the most common fall season and formerly classined as summer colds, rhinitis, recurrent catarch, etc, are now more generally recognized as hay fever. The increase is also real, as the increase in facilities of transportation, by means of automobiles and trolley cars, has resulted in an increase in the development of suburban settlements, practically all of which are more or less directly exposed to pollen infestation In view of the importance of hay fever, as regards both the large number affected and the length and severity of the symptoms, Doctor Scheppegrell says the treatment of this disease demands a most careful consideration.

Care in Choosing Homes.

"In the selection of homes hay fever subjects should choose localities distant from weed-infested areas,' continues the paper 'The pollen of the grasses and of the summer hay fever weeds generally does not ordinarily travel very far, and a mile is usually a safe distance. The pollen of the ragweeds and other fall hay fever weeds, however, is very buoyant and in windy weather may travel five miles or more.

"The effects of tree pollens should also be borne in mind by persons subject to hay fever. In view of the large number of persons in the United States afflicted with hay fever, the subjects of trees and plants from a hay fever standpoint should be given due consideration by the modern landscape architect.

'During their attacks of hay fever patients should avoid localities infested with weeds generally, and especially with those weeds to the pollen of which they are sensitive Should their neighborhood be infested with weeds and an ordinance be in force prohibiting such condition, it should, in the interest of public health be reported to the board of health

"Electric fans should be avoided during the hay fever season, as the chilling of the surface of the skin tends to react on the mucous membrane of the nose, and in this way to increase the nasal irritation In addition to this, the current of air from the fans disturbs the dust, which contains its proportion of pollen during the hay fever season, the inhalation of which increases the discomfort of the patient

"Hay fever subjects are frequently surprised that their symptoms are aggravated in theaters, where they expected protection from atmospheric pollen The reason is that modern amusement halls operating in summer are practically all supplied with typhoon fans These draw in the pollen laden air in enormous quantities and force it into the auditorium where the effect is quickly felt by those sensitive to these pollens Such places of amusement should, therefore be avoided by unimmunized hay fever subjects during the season of their attacks.

Exercise Is Beneficial.

"A reasonable amount of exercise is beneficial, but this should be taken without increased exposure to the hay fever pollen Swimming, especially in salt water, is an excellent form of exercise.

"A cold shower after a warm bath is an excellent means of toning the skin and stimulating the nervous system in hay fever cases. The regular practice of this makes the patient less sensitive to changes of temperature and to air currents which tend to increase the nasal irritation in these cases. The cold showers should be followed by vigorous rubbing and are beneficial in all cases except when the patient fails to react from the shower and when they are contraindicated on account of high blood pressure or other reasons.

"Before making a change in residence, with a view of obtaining benefit in hay fever, especially if the change is to be permanent, the patient should consult a physician familiar with the etiology of hay fever Unless this is the case, not only may the result be disappointing, but the conditions may even be aggravated.

"Railroad trips during the hay fever season should if possible, be avoided by hay fever patients, as they usually cause severe attacks."

Use of Private Airplanes Made Easier in England

London.—Private airplane flying is to be simplified in Great Britain by the abolishment of the irksome regulations requiring that a plane must be passed as airworthy every day and must land only at a recognized airdrome. A plane now will be certified as airworthy in the first place, and then it is up to the owner to keep it in condition.

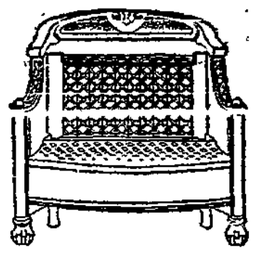
The Humphrey Radiantfire



What it will do---

It will flood your room with glowing radiant heat in one minute after lighting.

It you are cold, chilly or wet, it will warm and dry you in one minute.

It will give you the greatest joy and comfort you ever had in your house.

If you are sick, it is better than a doctor in your house.

It will save firing the furnace for two months in the fall and spring.

It will save a ton of coal a month in the winter time.

You can run it two days for the cost of lighting the furnace once.

It burns ordinary City Gas, and costs three cents an hour to run — using natural gas less than a cent an hour.

It will give you 4 to 8 times more heat than any other Gas fire.

It is absolutely and positively odorless. Without dust, dirt or ashes.

Why it does it--

Because of the high flame temperature and intensified combustion made possible by our Wonderful new safety burner.

Because this heat coming in contact with lace-like Heating elements becomes further intensified, making them glow and become intensely hot.

Because this incandescent mass throws out pure Radiant Heat waves all over the lower part of the room, warming you instantly.

Because of these things there are no unburnt gases, therefore, no odor, and a perfect Hygienic fire and wonderful for a sick room.

Because of these things it is the most wonderful heating appliance in the world.

No Dirt, No Ashes, No Noise, No Bother, Perfect Safety, Ever Ready

Be sure to ask for the Genuine HUMPHREY RADIANTFIRE with the SUPER-COMBUSTION BURNER.

If it isn't a Humphrey, it isn't a Radiantfire.

LIGHTS SATISFACTORY.

The new lights in McKean avenue, as first demonstrated Wednesday evening, give evidence that the system as a whole is to be satisfactory to the citizenry and the councilmanic body, who entered into a contract for the system with the West Penn Power Company. Old Sol, with all his beneficent rays will not, in slang parlance, have "anything on" the lighting system in Charleroi, the business section of which will be liken unto day to the extent it will be hard, in this tween day and night.

For the lighting system, credit must be given, first, to the business men's committee of the Chamber of Commerce, who sponsored the movement; and secondly, to Charleroi council who met the committee half way and secured a contract with the power company for the system which promises to be satisfactory.

Now, that the business section of the borough is to be "light as day," it would be good business, and a policy that would be appreciated, if some of the streets and avenues in the hill and other districts of the borough receive better lighting facilities. Council has overtures from citizens at nearly every meeting in this respect. Residents want lights where none exist; they want lights changed, and new ones installed, and council is doing the best it can for them.

The Searchlight, Atlanta organ of the Ku Klux organization urges, in order that it may live, that all Klansmen subscribe and submits that if they fail to do their duty in this particular the "partisan press" will succeed in its combative effort and "Protestants will continue to doubt the need or the aim of the great American organization." The admitted "doubt" among Protestants is a gratifying indication that the latter have not forgotten what their ancestors owed to the American principle of religious liberty.

Premier Ramsey MacDonald is a close observer as well as a man of ideas. "When you put your hand to the work," he says, "you discover how simple is the English language and how difficult are the minds and ways of men. Peace—what does it mean? Security—what does it mean? Cooperation—what does it mean? No scheme can be produced but the critical minds of men can prove beyond a doubt that it will not work." Always the "aspiration of the galleries" must contend with the cynicism of experts on the floor.

Caught with $150,000 worth of shares in a biscuit factory, Premier MacDonald explains that he accepted them from a rich friend only as an endowment for his automobile and when he ceases to keep a car the shares will revert to the donor. In addition to the novelty of the explanation doubtless some Englishmen think that a Socialist, or even though a Premier, ought not to keep a car.

Twenty years ago a great outburst of indignation and much hurling of the short ugly word followed Judge Parker's charge that Candidate Roosevelt had a working agreement with Harriman and Wall street, but sometime later official investigation revealed plentiful basis for the charge and produced serious effort toward statutory reform.

Outlaw Queen Could Be All Feminine at Times

Belle Starr, outlaw queen of the old days in Texas and Oklahoma, wore her hair short and was particularly sweet to women, says the Detroit News. She lived for years on the proceeds of loot and lined up a gang of the most rest-looking, hardest cursing wildest riding and shooting hard boiled customers in her particular parts of the cow country.

She used to call at women's houses on her way home from leading her band on a robbery, and she would talk religious songs and tell stories to the children.

Several stories are told of the way Belle Starr met her death. The generally accepted one is that she was assassinated by a man named Edgar A. Watson, who had gone to Oklahoma in the '20s and started farming near her place. It is told they became enemies in a dispute over land rental. Anyway, February 3, 1889, so the version has it, a double barreled shotgun did the work.

Congregation Brayed

One of the quaintest ceremonies of the Middle ages was that of the Feast of the Ass, which was celebrated annually January 14 in order to commemorate the Flight into Egypt.

The proceedings began with a procession, in which a beautiful girl holding a child in her arms and seated on an ass was led through the streets to church.

On arrival at the church the ass and its burden were placed near the high altar, while the usual religious services were performed. But instead of the usual responses the people imitated the braying of an ass and at the close of the service the priest brayed three times by way of benediction, and was answered in the same manner by the congregation.—London Answers.

Skate Made of Glass

Cinderella's glass slipper has failed to become something more than a myth, though Cinderella will not now need a fairy godmother to provide her with a coach in which to ride her home swiftly. Her slippers would answer the purpose. The proposed Cinderella's glass slipper is a skate, of which the upper part resembles a slipper, open behind, with a split "face-up" heel cap. The skate is of glass, hardened by a certain process to the consistency of steel. Every part of the skate is of glass from the slipper-like upper to the glittering blade. It is asserted that the glass blades are much more slippery than steel ones and that they will run almost as

Iodine Salt is a Goiter Preventive

Not a fad or a hastily conceived notion, but a scientific fact. After years of research and experiment medical science has determined that simple Goiter is caused by a deficiency of Iodine in the food or water supply and that it can be prevented by adding Iodine to table salt for every-day use. Hence MULKEY'S IODINE SALT.

JACKIE COOGAN IS MODERN CRUSOE

The romance of childhood finds full sway again in Jackie Coogan's newest Metro-Goldwyn picture, "Little Robinson Crusoe," which is coming to the Coyle Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Children, young and old, are going to have the time of their lives when they see this film, which surpasses anything Jackie has ever done for adventure and real excitement.

It's pretty hard, these days, to be a Robinson Crusoe and live a lot of years all alone on an island in the middle of the sea, as Alexander Selkirk did before Defoe put him in a book and called him Crusoe. With every ocean traversed by steam propelled vessels and battleships of all nations prowling around to keep the peace; with dirigible airships floating—but see Jackie, he will show you how it's done.

The Personal Side

Mrs. E. H. Bradley of Fallowfield avenue, is a social and business caller in Pittsburgh today.

Mrs. S. H. Lammay of Maple Creek was taken to the West Penn hospital, Pittsburgh yesterday, to undergo treatment.

Miss Catherine Dopler of Donora is spending the day as the guest of Mrs. A. F. Bertsche of Fallowfield avenue.

Fred Schempp who has been ill at his home in McKean avenue for the past three weeks, is improved and able to be out again.

Miss Florence Crytzer, who is employed in Pittsburgh, spent yesterday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crytzer of McKean avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown of Lincoln avenue, celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary Wednesday. They spent the day visiting in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Sarah Keenan accompanied by her daughter, Miss Dora Keenan of Allenport, left for a few weeks vacation to be spent in Mansfield and other points in Ohio.

Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Wright of Fallowfield avenue, have returned home from Chicago, where they attended the Electronic Research Convention held at that place.

Mrs. Rose Shipley of Meadow avenue, who underent a successful operation in the Homeapathic hospital, Pittsburgh, is getting along very nicely and is reported as resting well.

In Society's Realm

Charles Balmer, son Roy, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Balmer and Mrs. John Wolf all of Prospect avenue, Miss Marie Lancaster of Lookout avenue and Mr. and Mrrs. John G. Wolfe of the Walfred apartments, left this morning by motor to spend the week end visiting in Gettysburg and other points of interest.

The Frances Willard Class of the Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. R. V. Golden, 310 Meadow avenue, this evening. All members are urged tobepresent. Assisting Mrs. Golden will be Mrs. Harry Yon, Mrs. Bruce Barnett, Mrs. Tom Moore and Mrs. T. H. Warrensford, as assistant hostesses.

Mrs. A. L. Brautegam of Oneida street, Monessen entertainedd the members of the Thursday Afternoon Bridge club of Charleroi yesterday afternoon with a bridge and dinner. A very pleasant afternoon of cards was spent, the favors going to Mrs. J. G. Albright and Mrs. Fred W. Brady. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock.

The members of the Emanon club met at the home of Miss May McCarthy of Eighth street and McKean avenue last evening, and spent an evening of merry making in games and music. There were ten members present. Luncheon was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Harriet McCarthy of Monongahela.

The members of the Altar Guild of St. Mary's Episcopal church met at the home of Miss Sarah Matthews, the president, of Lincoln avenue, last evening. After a lengthy business meeting, during which time business matters of importance were discussed, the time was pleasantly spent in social converse and sewing. Miss Matthews served a dainty luncheon with the assistance of her sister, Mrs. W. C. Wable.

Mr.and Mrs.Joseph Gass of 219 McKean avenue, who were married a year yesterday, celebrated the first wedding anniversary with a dinner party held at their McKan avenue home. A sumptuous dinner was served at 6 o'clock last evening, covers being laid for 15. The balance of the evening was spent in playing games and social converse. The bride and groom received many beautiful and useful gifts. The out-of-town guests present were Mrs. Jane Owens and daughter Miss Rose of Brownsville, mother and sister of Mrs. Gass, and Mrs. Joseph Adams and children of Monongahela.

[illegible] of the Thomas P. Tweed company organized a club last evening with the first meeting held at the home of Miss Edna Acker of McKean avenue. There were fourteen present and after a short business meeting, during which time it was decided to meet every two weeks at the various homes, a good time was spent in games, sewing and music. The luncheon served by the hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. Henry Acker and sister, Miss Dorothy, was much enjoyed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Helen Booth of Center avenue, North Charleroi, Thursday, October 9.

The All-Wed Euchre club held its initial meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Eugene Gibson of Washington avenue. It was decided that the meetings would be held every week, each member entertaining in turn and at each session the various nations would be represented, refreshments to be carried out in the national dish. The greatest part of the evening was spent in card playing,the favors being presented to Mrs. George Wentzell and Mrs. Latte. Luncheon served by the hostess assisted byMrs. King Jones, concluded the evening. Mrs. George Wentzell of Eighth street will entertain the members next week.

The operators of the Bell Telephone company and a number of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. James Pardiny of 204 Lookout avenue last evening, who before her marriage a few weeks ago, was Miss Freda Behrendt, and accorded her a miscellaneous shower. The evening was enjoyably spent in card games, music and dancing followed by the serving of dainty refreshments by Mrs. Pardiny assisted by her sister-in-law, Miss Irene Pardiny. The bride received many pretty gifts, chief among which was a beautiful breakfast set of blue and gold china presented to her by her former co-workers. The operators also entertained recently for another of their former co-workers, Mrs. Dan O'Rourke, formerly known as Miss Helen Fiedler. They showered her with many pretty and useful gifts.

A wedding of interest took place yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal church with Rev. Dr. E. H. Greenlee officiating, when Miss Mary Jean Sphar, daughter of Mrs. Alberta Sphar of Fallowfield township, and cousin of Mrs. Walter Pfile of Lincoln avenue, with whom she has made her home for the past year, became the bride of Norman A. Gumbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gumbert of Turtle Creek. The bride was very beautiful in a tan canton crepe with hat to match. They were unattended. Immediately after the ceremony, the young couple left on a short wedding trip and upon their return will reside with the brides mother. Both the bride and groom are well and favorably known, the groom being employed at the Fox Grocery company of this place.

ARE PLENTY OF DOERS OF EVIL IN THIS COUNTY

Harrisburg, Sept. 26.—Four out of every five persons brought to trial upon charges of violating the liquor laws in Washington County during the last nineteen months were convicted. Records compiled by the State Police and dealing only with those prisoners arrested by the State Police patrols, show that 103 convictions were obtained in the Washington County courts, while 27 persons were discharged. Thirty-five prisoners taken by the State Police are still awaiting trial, making a total of 165 persons arrested in Washington County by the State Police during the period extending from January 1, 1923, to July 31, 1924.

Jail sentences were imposed upon 65 of the 103 persons convicted. The heaviest sentence given was that of more than eighteen months, which was meted out to 9 of the persons convicted. Six other violators of the liquor law were ordered to serve from six months to one year, 33 from two to six months, while 17 escaped with compartively light sentences of two months or less. Seventeen men forfeited their bail bonds, while 5 were ordered to pay fines and costs before going free. Sixteen others were convicted and ordered to pay the costs of the prosecution.

Washington county was second on the list of the 67 counties of the state in the amount of fines collected from its liquor law offenders. During the nineteen months period the men convicted of violating the Volstead Act were ordered to pay the total of $97,115.43 in fines. That amount was exceeded only by Fayette county, where the State Police report shows that $117,000 was collected in fines imposed upon bootleggers and moonshine liquor salesmen.

Washington county was likewise second to Fayette county in the number of men sent to jail for violation of the nineteen months period, had 225 "involuntary guests" who were sent to jail for flaunting the causes of law enforcement, the State Police report shows.

Davis, Bidding for West's Vote, Meets Running Mate

Having followed the advice of Horace Greeley and Clem L. Shaver, to "Go west, young man go west," John W. Davis, the Democratic presidential nominee, is "hitting hard and shooting straight" out on the prairies, seeking to corral the votes of the territory west of the Mississippi. In Omaha, as shown above, he combined business with pleasure and went to see a Western League ball game with his running mate, Charles W. Bryan, governor of Nebraska. Below he is seen with "Fighting Jim" Dahlman, mayor of Omaha.

Young American Women Wear Longer Necklaces

A peculiar change has been made in the length of necklaces. When Princess Mary was married the British royal family was economizing, and short neck strings became the fashion. They are trying to any but the young and slender, and recently American women, especially those that are neither young nor slender, have been breaking away and taking to longer and longer strings, dangling and drooping effects, stunning against gowns of long and simple lines in one color. They seem to lend height and grace, and they suggest an abandonment to luxury, and hence are alluring. Colored stones are appearing in this prodigal form. Browns and grays are being pressed into service, in addition to the blue whites. And then there are the pale green jades, and white jades, and green shot with white, very precious. These come from China, where real art and honest work are still lavished on the carving and mounting of gems. China is also the most important producer of rock crystal, and her adepts at carving it get wonderful results. And crystal is being sought more and more for bead strings.

We have not yet, however, cultivated to any great extent two points of interest in jade that appeal to the cultured Chinaman. One is its sound when struck. A large piece of good jade has a [illegible] music to the cultivated Chinese ear and attests the quality of the possession. And in addition the real jade fancier has a curiously cultivated tactile sense through which he derives pleasure from running his fingers over a jade ornament. A dealer with a shop will have a few friends who enjoy his jades in this [illegible], waiting for a spare hour and fingering the precious substance. The dealer is willing, for his pieces are thus given a polish the carver cannot impart. It seems a queer sort of sport, hardly more exciting than Mah Jongg—and yet in this exercise the Chinaman is esthetic in the Greek sense.

Tree in New Jersey Wears Old Felt Hat

A tree has been discovered that wears a hat. It is a felt hat and a good deal remains of it, considering that from all indications the tree has been wearing it for the last twenty-five years. In a swamp near Chatham, N. J., stands the 20-foot cedar that claims the distinction.

The hat circles the trunk of the cedar at a height of about five feet from the ground. The trunk pushes straight up through the crown of the hat for 15 feet and a pair of sturdy branches grown out since the tree imprisoned the hat are at a distance of about a foot above it.

Despite its age and weather-beaten green hue, the hat remains in excellent condition and, according to the opinion of a manufacturer, in its present position will last indefinitely. A tree expert, in trying to ascertain the length of time the hat had girdled the cedar's four-inch trunk, made comparisons by use of a trunk section of similar dimensions. His measurements showed a growth of about an eighth of an inch in the trunk a year, from which he estimated that it would take more than fifty years for the cedar to enlarge sufficiently to break through the hat and cause it to fall.

The make of hat worn so long by the cedar is not disclosed.—New York Times.

Gee but They Go Deep

Pat visited the dentist with his jaw very much swollen from a tooth he desired to have pulled. But when the suffering man got into the chair and saw the gleaming pair of forceps approaching his face he refused to open his mouth.

The dentist quietly told his assistant to prick the patient with a pin, and when Pat opened his mouth to yell the dentist seized the tooth and out it came.

"It didn't hurt as much as you expected, did it?" the dentist asked, smilingly.

"Well, no," replied Pat, hesitatingly, as if doubting the truthfulness of his admission. "But," he added, placing his hand on the spot where the boy had pricked him, "but little did I think the roots would reach down like that."

Oil to Protect Tracks

To stop rust on railroad tracks and make the steel fixtures last as long as the chemically treated ties, an eastern road has worked out a plan of oiling its rails, track bolts, tie plates, and other fittings of like character. The cost of putting on this coating is not high, and the saving effected on any one item of the track structure is said to justify the practice.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Scotland Made Game of Golf National Pastime

Three months before the Pilgrim Fathers left Deftshaven James VI approved the contract for the first municipal golf links at St. Andrews, Scotland. Golf may have started in Holland, where a game called kolf, a cross between golf, hockey and bowling, was played on the ice, within covered courts and even in churchyards. If the Scotch did import the sport they changed it greatly. "Links" for example is the Scotch term referring to rolling close-cropped shore fields which have become the model for all golf courses. "Bunkers" are really cut banks such as are found along a graded country road. Such banks with sand pits are natural to the Scotch shore. St. Andrew's cut banks are now artificially created on golf links wherever golf is played. For many years the original Scotch course consisted of 11 holes, a match being two rounds, or 22 holes, but in 1764 it was decided to eliminate two holes, so today the standard course is in multiples of nine. —National Geographic Society.

Early Navigators Dared Perils of Every Sort

It is a little more than 400 years ago since man made his first-known trip around the globe. The first voyage took three years, and they were years of great privation and discomfort. The early successful navigator was J. S. del Cano, a Spaniard. He returned to port on September 6, 1522. The expedition numbered five vessels, and of the 280 pioneers who set sail only 31 returned—ragged and broken. One of the objects of the adventure was to test the theory that the earth was round, and the ships took a westward course to discover a passage to the Indies. Ferdinando Magellan, a Portuguese, after whom the straits are named, was a leading spirit in the expedition. When the task was almost accomplished he and 40 others were killed by natives in the Philippine islands. Only one ship, the Vittoria, under del Cano, completed the journey.

Modest Maiden

"John, I want to say, something to you!"

"Say on, my dear," replied John, as he looked fondly at the golden head that was pillowed on his manly bosom.

"This is the year when proposing is done by the women."

"Yes."

"I hope you don't expect me to propose to you?"

"Well, Mary, I have never given the matter a thought. To tell the truth, I've only know you for—that is to say—"

"I am glad you don't expect me to propose. I'm not that kind, I hope. No, John, I couldn't be so immodest. I am going to let you do the proposing yourself in the old-fashioned way. The old-fashioned way is good enough for me."

The girl gave her lover a beaming smile, and the youth rejoiced that he had found such a treasure of modesty.

Poisonous Flower Bulbs

Daffodil bulbs, which superficially resemble onions, have sometimes been eaten for them by mistake and have caused serious poisoning. A case was reported not long ago in Edinburgh, where a cook took a daffodil bulb for an onion and used it to flavor a stew subsequently eaten by five persons. All were made acutely sick before the end of the meal. All recovered in a few hours and apparently suffered no after effects of the dose. The poisoning is supposed to be due to a principle known as "narcissine," found in the bulbs of daffodils and jonquils. Persons keeping daffodil bulbs in the house should take care that they are not confused with onions.

Beginnings of Music

The beginnings of music-making, as it is practiced by uncivilized people, offer curious reading. Among savage tribes, it is said, the earliest acquired musical phrase is derived quite distinctly from a simple howl, the notes gliding down or up a scale by semitones. And savages repeat over and over again one phrase, their satisfaction in having mastered which is childlike. As the people rise in the scale of intelligence, their favorite musical phrases grow larger and become more elaborate until a systematized making of music can be clearly discerned.

Famous London House

Carlton house was a famous mansion in London, which formerly stood in Waterloo place, near Pall Mall. It was erected in 1709 by Lord Carlton, and was afterward the residence successively of Frederick, prince of Wales (father of George III) and of George IV when prince of Wales. The building was removed in 1826. Carlton club, the famous Conservative club, was founded by the duke of Wellington, in 1831. It occupies a position near the site of Carlton house, whence the name.

All That Survives One

To be rich to be famous? Do these profit a year hence, when other names seem louder than yours, when you lie hidden away under ground along with the idle titles engraven on your coffin? But only true love lives after you, follows your memory with secret blessings or defends you and intercedes for you. Non omnis moriar, if dying, I yet live in a tender heart or two; nor am lost and hopeless, living, if a sainted departed soul still loves and prays for me.—Thackeray.

Meskwaki Tribe Bought Its Own Land in Iowa

The Meskwaki originally were a Wisconsin tribe, but now are living on a reservation in Tama, Iowa, being the only Indians in Iowa.

Some years ago the government granted them a tract of land in Kansas. They tried living on it, became dissatisfied and returned to Iowa, where they purchased their own land and formed a colony.

The Meskwaki are a very primitive tribe, but in the last ten years have advanced to the stage where the brave will go out and perform manual labor. They figure quite largely in the canning industry, and are to be seen going to work in automobiles that are the envy of the whites.

These Indians never were known to send a visitor away hungry. The average Meskwaki will walk a mile and visit two weeks at the home of a friend. Squaws of the tribe are very subservient and patient, and never complain when hubby drags home a raft of company for dinner. Instead they pour additional water in the soup and perhaps roast another chicken or two.

It is not an infrequent occurrence for visitors to appear from out the woods in every direction just as a Meskwaki meal is being served, and if there isn't enough to eat, Mrs. Indian must prepare enough.—Detroit News.

Workers of Lancashire Prove the Best Spinners

It's a common saying in the cotton trade that Lancashire spins finer every day. So the spinner must be given some credit for the production of many of the beautiful fabrics which are now made from cotton.

But fine spinning is useless without good weaving, and here Lancashire is ahead of all rivals. It has the finest operatives in the world, with the inherited skill of their forefathers in their fingers. Threads are joined by a twist of the fingers, quicker than the eye can see, and the utmost is obtained from all the miraculous machinery.

Cotton is turned into velvet fit for a queen under their skillful hands, and gossamer fabrics, both stronger and finer than silk, emerge from the clanging looms. Every color of the rainbow is seen, and the studios of Paris give of their best in designs.

The cloth of Lancashire supplies the fabric for motor tires, covers the furniture, makes beds soft and comfortable, offers smart shirts that keep their color forever, and provides dainty frocks and lingerie for wives and children.—London Mail.

Indians of Amazon Valley

War is the normal state of the Ubaro Indian of the Amazon valley, first, for the purpose of getting wives from neighboring or enemy tribes, second, for revenge of injuries inflicted upon relatives during wars, then for enemy heads that are supposed to bring good luck to the possessors because of the sacrifice of the victim to the devil. The heads of their enemies also become a source of income to these savage Amazonian tribes, since they are exchanged with traders for arms, ammunition, etc.

The skull is removed from the head of the decapitated enemy through a slit in the back from the neck up. The skin is then boiled to arrest putrefaction, after which it is dried and reduced in size by inserting hot stones the size of an orange. When the interior has been shrunk to the size of the stones hot sand is used to continue the process of drying and shrinking. After the process is completed, the head is hung up in the hut as a trophy and feasts are held in its honor. These miniature heads, retaining to a remarkable degree characteristic likeness to the living person, are in demand in the outside world.—Detroit News.

Real Color of Gold

Few persons are familiar with the real color of gold, because it is seldom seen except when heavily alloyed, a state in which it is much redder than when it is pure. The purest coins ever made were the $50 pieces which were once in common use in California. Their coinage was abandoned because the loss by abrasion was so great and because their interior could be bored out and filled with lead. They were octagonal in shape and were the most valuable coins ever minted and circulated. All gold is not alike when refined. Australian gold is distinctly redder than that taken in California. Moreover, placer gold is more yellow than that which is taken from quartz. This is one of the mysteries of metallurgy, because the gold in placers comes from that which is in quartz. The gold in the Ural mountains is the reddest in the world.

Really Ladylike

Calamity Jane—Doctor, I'm so glad you hurried. I've been severely bitten on the arm.

Doctor Woodchuck—I can't quite make out what sort of animal bit you. The wound is too small for a horse's bite and too big for a dog's.

Calamity Jane—Oh, it wasn't an animal, it was another lady.

A Real Crank

"Your friend Wheeler is certainly a crank on punctuality, isn't he?" said Smith.

"I should say he is," replied Brown. "Why, he even carries his watch in the hip pocket of his trousers to prevent his ever being behind time."

THE GERMAN WAR SPIRIT IS NOT DEAD

Over 100,000 people turned out at Tannenberg, East Prussia, to pay homage to Gen. von Hindenburg, who decisively beat the Russians there in 1914. The Germans seem to be an untamed, restless folk, with semblance of the war spirit still dominating. Left to right—Gen. von Seeckt and Gen. von Hindenburg. At right, wearing Deaths Head Hussar "Shako," is Gen. von Mackensen, and in front of him is General Ludendorff.

Autumn Opening

Friday and Saturday

A tantalizing glimpse of the new modes for Fall, a lesson in the smart things to wear for that important season, an hour or two of keen pleasure—provided in our Autumn Opening on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Fall Millinery
Shapes and Shades Entrancing

Joy to the spirited girl, joy to the matron in the new Millinery modes for fall. With the roguish little felts and lizard skin Hats that have come for the former and the chic high crowned styles arrived for her Mother there is promise of Hat satisfaction for all. Further, for the street there are small brimmed sailors and many quill-trimmed Chapeaux, belting ribbon Hats and crushers of duvetyn. While for dress the Hat takes on larger proportions and is very likely to flaunt ostrich trim, double brim or bird of gay plumage. Interesting to note that pansy shades are fashion-favored and to see them with a tinge of red for youth.

Little Folks
Have Their Own Displays

The petite persons who hold your hearts in their hands are catered to in our Autumn Exposition. Master Bud and Mistress Mary may be outfitted from whirly curl to tiny toe with the smartness of their elders in our Children's Section. And it is not style alone that emerges from this section but sound value in the smallest item. Let brisk days coming see the wee ones in these newest of coats, hats, frocks and suits.

For a Gracious Home
This Autumn

With the fall of twilight each autumn evening, the Home scores its inning. Young and old hasten to it, rejoice in the sweet music of tinkling teacups and the radio's revelations, glean large pleasure from new books, new games, chats with good friends. And just in proportion to its charm a home is successful in keeping afamily contented through sombre fall and long winter. Make yours a home unusual. Buy for it certain precious comforts. Visit and learn the new notes in decoration.

Fashionable Frocks
To Brighten Autumn

Fashion's notebook assigns for autumn afternoon occasions satin Frocks with dashing tunics, slashed, buttoned or bound in [illegible] with huge bows at low waistlines; and some alpacas in light-hearted colors. While for street and business she calls softly tailored broadcloth and twill Frocks the best introducing Directoire and Spanish notes for spice. The Autumn Opening reveals the Frock story in interesting fashion. Attend and make note of what smartness you would like in your autumn wardrobe.

Wraps of Autumn
Choose Unusual Silhouettes.

Fashion saw women wrapping their smart Coats closely about them, achieving a silhouette ever so narrow at the hem and rather full in the waist. Then striving diligently to please them further she designed these Wraps for fall, which follow the lines of a dolman so closely. Puff sleeves appear occasionally and a lining of plaid enlivens one or two. Follow this mode or choose a straightline Wrap with tunic border of fur —your style-right appearance is assured.

The Smartest Suits
Are Ensemble Costumes

The suit that triumphs this Fall is an ensemble costume, consisting of seven-eighth length coat and frock akin to it in decoration and color. You will remember the ensemble's first appearance, its acceptance, its general becomingness; and you will realize how much one can mean to you when you see the newer models. Tawny shades were chosen to enhance your loveliness and suede-finished fabrics to bring out their richness most charmingly. These are practical costumes, accommodating for so many occasions.

Autumn's Fabrics Have Come

It's a thorough delight to fashion a wardrobe one's self if the Fabrics one has to work with are charming and easy to drape. There will be many softly tailored frocks so smart for fall made at home this season for almost never before were Fabrics so likable. Suede-finished woolens and silky broadcloths enter with striped twills, shiny satins and cashmere woolens to charm the trained or amateur sewer.

STOCK JUDGING CONTEST FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

Many boys and girls of Washington county are expected to compete in the stock judging contest at the annual Burgettstown Fair on Thursday of next week, Elwood H. Fulton, county agriculturist, who is in charge of arrangements, announces. The judging will start Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock with competent instruction.

The contest, which is open to all boys and girls of the county, will be in three divisions: Vocational school students, senior and junior. The senior group will be composed of all boys and girls 14 years of age and over, and the junior group those under 14 years. Four classes of livestock will be judged. Liberal premiums are being offered by the association.

That Shut Him Up

An eloquent politician was constantly interrupted by a man in the crowd, who kept on shouting out "Liar!"

After about the twentieth repetition, the speaker paused and fixed his eye on his tormentor.

"If the gentleman who persists in interrupting," he said, "will be good enough to tell us his name, instead of merely shouting out his profession, I am sure we shall all be pleased to make his acquaintance."

A Slight Error

A London man went home at 2 a. m. To avoid waking his wife he removed his boots. This didn't seem to help matters much, so he took his socks off, too, and finally most of his clothes.

He stepped up the stairs gingerly in this state, and when he reached the top found himself in Waterloo station.

"I could not work at all and had to take to my bed with a high fever due to intestinal indigestion, gases in my stomach and pain in my right side. I had spent my last cent for doctors and medicine, which gave me no relief. A lodge brother gave me a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and the first dose relieved me. Thanks to this medicine I am now in the best of health." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.
